

Tag Team/Partner Tournament Rules

(Please Post For Players to See)

This tournament will run as a normal poker tournament except every player will have a partner and they will take turns playing every other blind level.

Players must be paired with a partner before the tournament begins. Each team will register just as they would on a normal league night and will be randomly assigned a seat. Each team will determine which player will play during the first blind level.

Any players without a partner can be paired with other players that do not have a partner before the tournament begins. No individual players will be allowed to play, everyone must have a partner.

Each 2-person team will begin with 2000 in chips total (not each). Blind levels will follow the regular league structure. At the end of each level, the host will stop play and the timer as each team will switch players. Play and the timer will then resume as normal.

Any team that has a player that has to leave early will have to withdraw from the tournament completely.

All other regular league rules will apply.

Both members of the winning team will receive a special league commemorative t-shirt. The host will record the sizes needed for each player and the league will send the t-shirts directly to the bar.
